

The Tasker Suite

Secure Enterprise Task Management Applications Built for ServiceNow

Leading organizations are taking control and eliminating chaos by moving from email, spreadsheets, shared folders, and complex workflow solutions to Tasker. By eliminating the silos and gaps of an unstructured work environment employees and business leaders unlock lost productivity and see an increased return on investment from their people and systems.

The new world of remote work has increased the need for secure and dynamic task management. Tasker brings your people out of email and sticky notes and into a single-screen to track and manage productivity.

About DTech Apps

Discover Technologies is an 11-year-old technology services and products company focused on helping organizations through their digital transformation journey. A few years ago, Discover Technologies recognized the challenges organizations experienced in modernizing office operations to become more efficient and successful. DTech Apps by Discover Technologies was born.

DTech Apps by Discover Technologies partnered with ServiceNow, the global leader in workflow management, to develop a suite of applications to help organizations deal with the challenges of assigning and managing tasks. The products enable organizations to spend more time achieving their objectives and less time managing their tasks. The result: development of The Tasker Suite, three products developed to help organizations discover how productive they can be.
